About

The hand in service of the object. Nothing else.

Aline is a Netherlands-based hand model specialising in jewellery, skincare and refined product imagery. Her work is defined by natural bare nails, unretouched hands and a quiet editorial sensibility.

She can be booked in two ways: as a hand model for client-led shoots, bringing natural, unretouched hands to campaigns where authenticity matters; or as a self-directed image creator and creative partner for brands seeking a more complete visual concept around the hand, object and gesture.

Aline is available for both studio productions and remote product shoots.
